

SOCIETY

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 3.—The most picturesque heroines of society come from Honolulu. There was the temperamental princess of two seasons ago; and the heiress of Waimanalo, a bride before her debut. There are the Afongs, two of them navy matrons, and one a hostess in San Francisco bridge circles. They do lend color to Greenway sets. The most interesting types in a standardized society.

The Princess David, with her Carmen beauty, was a brilliant dash across the quiet tones of a Cinderella background, one winter. Then she went to London, where she wore a coat of royal feathers at the coronation and afterward fell ill. It is said to picture the vivid personality subdued to invalidism. A debutante of some future season is the small Princess Liluokalani, who promises to be as Carmesque and beautiful as her mother, the Princess David Kawananakoa, to complete it.

Thelma Parker was a perfect magazine serial heroine. Fabulous wealth, unusual charm, distinctive grace, and so on. An inspiration for Robert Chambers. As Mrs. Harry Smart, a mature matron of 18, she will be introduced next winter. Everyone remembers about the Afongs. Their father was the famous Ah Fong, merchant prince of Honolulu, and they are very striking types.

But quite new, and not competing for Greenway honors, because they are following careers, with a large C, are Katherine Sadler and Watty Holt. They have quaint names in Hawaii, whence Sonny Cunha came to make his home at Yale. Watty Holt is a girl, and a very important girl at home, who inherited a fortune and properly made her debut in Honolulu. Tennis, teas, dances and moonlight luau failed finally, and Watty Holt was bored. So she decided to come to San Francisco and be a nurse. So she came to San Francisco, and is training at St. Francis Hospital as though her living depended on it. Her fortune is her least concern, and someone in Honolulu is looking after it for her.

At the children's hospital Katherine Sadler is not less conspicuous. Her home in the Islands is famed for its generous hospitality, but at the training school Katherine Sadler has a small room in the dormitory and is altogether determined on her career. Both have the characteristic beauty and individuality of the heroines from Hawaii, who are not of the "Bird of Paradise" sort, but remain for some new dramatist to discover.

Mrs. E. D. Tenney of Honolulu has been extensively entertained during her visit in San Francisco. Mrs. William Irwin gave a dinner for her and Mrs. Fred Knight was a luncheon hostess in her honor. Last Friday Mrs. Pruet gave a luncheon at the Fairmont for Mrs. Tenney and the latter's sister, Mrs. Noonan. The guests included Mrs. Ira Pierce, Mrs. Jessie Bowle Detrick, Mrs. Andrew Welch Jr., Mrs. Florence Porter Pflingst, Mrs. Frederick Fenwick, Mrs. Grayson Dutton, Mrs. John Rodgers Clark and several others.—Examiner.

A very simple and quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Clement's last evening, when Mrs. Gertrude Wilder became the bride of Mr. Curzon Usborne. Rev. Williams officiated. Mrs. Wilder was attended by Mrs. Charles Wilder as matron of honor, and Mr. Usborne was supported by Mr. Charles L'Hommecleu.

Mr. and Mrs. Usborne left in the Wilhelmnia this morning for a trip to the mainland. Pali Picnic. Mrs. Harry Wilder was hostess at a most enjoyable picnic at the Pali on Sunday for a number of the younger set. Among those present were Miss Betty Case, Miss Edith Cowles, Mr. and Mrs. Whitehead, Miss Priscilla Elliott, Mr. Chan Wilder, Mr. Warren Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilder.

Art Exhibit. Those who have been fortunate enough to receive invitations from the Kilauea Art League to attend the lecture on Rosa Bonheur's pictures by Miss Anne Klumpke on Thursday evening are looking forward to the affair with much interest. Miss Klumpke was during the lifetime of the famous artist closely associated with her and has a keen knowledge of her work. Miss Klumpke will also show many of her own paintings at the Art League.

Mr. Fred Schaefer left in the Wilhelmnia today to attend school in the East.

Mrs. George R. Carter left in the Wilhelmnia today with her two daughters, Elizabeth and Phoebe, who are returning East for the school year.

NAVY OFFICERS PLAN RIFLE RANGE

The proposed navy rifle range is the latest issue in connection with Pearl Harbor at present, and there is every indication that the government will have one of the best up-to-date ranges for Oahu in the near future, provided the land can be secured. At the present time there are several sites in view, in the general neighborhood of Pearl Harbor, and there is money available for putting up the buildings and targets. The purchase of the land, however, presents a more complex situation, as it is necessary to have an act of Congress for the securing of government acreage. This, then, may delay the completion of the range.

Yesterday morning Admiral Cowles, Major Neville, Civil Engineer Galley and Lieut. Stevens made an inspection trip on the navy tug Navajo. The party visited several sites below Pearl Harbor, and made a preliminary inspection, the results of which will go to the Navy Department in the form of a report and recommendation.

RECREATIONS

'BOY AND GIRL' AT OPERA HOUSE
TO BE HELD
Saturday, Sept. 21, 1912

"The Boy and Girl" is scheduled for this evening's performance at the Hawaiian Opera House, where the Ferris Hartman Opera Company is daily winning favor with Honolulu theatergoers. Walter De Leon, one of the leading men with Ferris Hartman, wrote the witty play and stars as the "Boy." Muggins Davies is also at her best as the "Girl." Tonight will be the last opportunity to see "The Boy and Girl," and tomorrow night the company will put on its last performance with "The Toyman." Friday the Hartmans will sail for the Far East on the S. S. Nile.

YE LIBERTY RETURNS TO VAUDEVILLE POLICY

Beginning with tomorrow's change of bill at the Liberty Theater the original policy of vaudeville will be reverted to, when The Kelso Brothers will make their initial local appearance. These boys are billed as original actors of novel comedy act, and while the act is in reality of the juggling kind it is claimed the juggling is second only to their comedy.

Another feature of the program will be four "feature" films and those who have witnessed the features at the Liberty in the picture line of the past can rest assured that these pictures will be well worth seeing.

Many new and novel acts and company are promised for early presentation at the big Nuuanu street theater and tomorrow night's program is claimed to be the beginning of these.
